Issue # 229

Community Lay Director

I know that in each of my monthly letters I talk about being bold with your witness. Once again I want to encourage you to take the church outside the walls. In Emmaus we are encouraged and challenged to take an active role in sharing Christ with our family, community, workplace and with those we encounter as we go through life.

I want to ask you, when is the last time you shared Christ with someone?

I promise you there is a boldness inside of you, just waiting to be tapped into, called the Holy Spirit.

The devil will always discourage you from being obedient to the Holy Spirit, because he knows when the Holy Spirit is prompting you to speak or act that miracles will be set in motion. Be obedient when you are being led by God to do something on His behalf. There is nothing more fulfilling than honoring God with obedience, and you will begin to see the fruit of your efforts.

We don't always see the fruit immediately, but His word will not return void. One day when we get to heaven, we will see what our words and actions have accomplished.

Challenge yourself to step out on His behalf and listen to what the spirit is saying to you. There are people dying and going to hell because we are afraid of rejection. Remember, they are rejecting Jesus, not you. Whatever you do, do it in love and love never fails.

DeColores
Jeff

An unlit candle gives no light, only when burning, is it shining bright, and if life is empty, dull and dark, it's doing things for others that gives the needed spark. Today light up someone's life and you'll generate happiness for yourself. Helen Steiner Rice
