Issue # 200

Community Lay Director

We all really enjoyed our Walk to Emmaus. We also have learned that when we get our heart right with God, and change our priorities God has a way of opening up new opportunities to serve him. Emmaus has improved our local churches by training men and women to be leaders in their local church. Some of our members have served as foreign missionaries; some have become pastors and other music leaders. There is no doubt that the Walk to Emmaus is a powerful tool for God.

But, today I want to tell you another way God has enriched our lives through our involvement in the Living Water Emmaus community. A person becomes more like those that they associate with. This is why it is critically important to choose your friends wisely. Proverbs 13:20 warns us that we should “Walk with the wise and become wise, for a companion of fools suffers harm.”

I have meet more Godly people in Emmaus than anything else I have ever done. At our Hale County Stock Show, Jerry Wall showed up with his grandson and we visited for a while, then he made a statement that really reached home. He said last year at this time we didn't even know each other, but today it seems like we have known each other our whole life. To be able to call a man like Jerry Wall a friend, thank you God. I wish I had room to list all the friends in the Living Water Emmaus Community who have positively affected my life. Just like Jerry said, it seems we have been friends our whole life. What do all members of the Living Water Community have in common? They all want everyone to see Jesus though them. Who could ask for better friends? If we are honest with ourselves we go to community meeting to worship God and see old friends.

So that brings us to Walk 80 there are men in every community who need Christian friends to pray for them, encourage them, hold them accountable. There is strength in numbers but we become weak when we try to do things by ourselves. When we were given our lanyard, the Lay Director challenged us by saying God is counting on you! God has call a great team of men to serve on Walk 80. He is calling on the Living Water Community to answer his call for pilgrims.
